

To Whom It May Concern:

In his role as our primary marketing and creative design consultant, David George of Chesapeake Creative Services is utterly indispensable.

He has not only increased our email circulation, customer feedback and sales, but consistently provides valuable input, creative visual arrangements, and timely response to all technical issues and design requests.

His ability to maintain and constantly improve our incredibly successful email marketing program is a major factor in our continued success as a company.

The effectiveness of Mr. George's services to drive sales has outperformed our expectations from day one, operating on a fair and competitive price scale we find to be well worth the results.

In conclusion, I cannot recommend him highly enough for your website and marketing needs.

Sincerely,

Vern Humble
